

Brotherhood Presents:

Rabbi Agin & "The Mystery of Disappearing Gold"

There are a number of events in history, both in the USA and abroad, that remain shrouded in mystery. Some are fanciful but others still engage investigative historians. Dr. Charles Agin, Rabbi and historian, will discuss one such matter that is quite intriguing. It involves answering such questions as: What happened to the almost twenty million dollars in Southern gold and silver that disappeared after the Civil War? Where is the Nazi train rumored to hold up to 300 tons of gold, jewels and masterpieces that disappeared after World War II? Finally, is there any gold in Fort Knox, that no one has seen since 1974? All three mysteries will be discussed in the lecture: "The Mystery of Disappearing Gold." If you love a mystery, and would like a diversion from some of the problems of our day, plan to attend this program.

Sun. Jan 7th, 1PM.
